I BELIEVE...

"There are times that our youth need someone other than their family to believe in them or to tell them everything is going to be okay. I am going to be the reason a student comes to school or comes to practice; I know there is some young soul who needs what I can provide."

I BELIEVE...

"Students need to be seen, heard, and taught through a culturally responsive lens. I want to create spaces for change and spaces where families feel like collaborative partners in their student's education. My why is to build community; it is to make the past, present, and future schools where I serve feel like home."
